Publishers Directory
Now online on Gale Directory Library

Available Nov. 07 Publishers Directory is your one-stop resource for exhaustive coverage of approximately 30,000 U.S. and Canadian publishers, distributors and wholesalers. Organizations profiled in Publishers Directory represent a broad spectrum of interests, including major publishing companies; small presses (in the traditional, literary sense); groups promoting special interests from ethnic heritage to alternative medical treatments; museums and societies in the arts, science, technology, history and genealogy; divisions within universities that issue special publications in such fields as business, literature and climate studies; religious institutions; corporations that produce important publications related to their areas of specialization; government agencies; and electronic and database publishers.

Comprehensive, fully updated and detailed entries feature full contact information, including name, address, phone, fax, Web site URL, and e-mail; basic information about the publisher, including sales, number of employees, date founded, affiliates, mergers, number of new titles, total titles, description of activities, ISBNs and other useful data; subjects of concentration, listings of key officers and personnel, special services, subdivisions and branch offices; and much more. Data is thoroughly indexed by name, subject, geographic location and imprints, making it easy to target specific types of entries.

Real-world applications might include:
- General readers looking for contact information on small presses who specialize in publications on literature can easily create a sortable list of publishers and contact information
- Authors targeting publishers in specific fields (such as science, arts or medicine) or in particular geographic locations can identify key personnel to contact and check for local branch offices
- Teachers looking for publications that focus on a specific topic can compile a list of publishers who have a concentration in the field
- Professionals interested in specialized business data can identify corporate publishers and generate a list of contact information by location
- And many others

ABOUT GALE DIRECTORY LIBRARY
With Gale Directory Library, researchers can use state-of-the-art functionality to perform a range of data sorting, filtering and exporting. These innovative features, unlike anything seen previously from our directories, make Gale Directory Library the essential tool for research.

- Find contacts — Finding a company, person, publication (or other kind of entity) is easy. Basic search lets users quickly look up names, search by keyword, and browse the full text of your directory holdings.
- Generate lists, analyze trends — Export search results and use them in programs like Excel or Word, making the creation of mailing lists a snap.
- Cross-searchable — Search across our growing number of directory titles. Each directory can be searched individually by its own unique data fields, or search the entire directory collection.

Additional benefits of Gale Directory Library:
- Use it like a database; buy and own it like a book collection
- State-of-the-art search, sort and export features
