Chap. 1: How Should End-of-Life Care Be Improved?
Hospice Care Is Beneficial to the Terminally Ill
Joe Loconte
Hospice Care Is Not Appropriate For All Terminally Ill Patients
Felicia Ackerman
Physician-Assisted Suicide Should Be Legalized
Peter Rogatz
Physician-Assisted Suicide Should Not Be Legalized
Wesley J. Smith
Advance Directives Enable Dying Patients to Control Treatment
David Kessler
Advance Directives Fail to Give Dying Patients Control Over Treatment
Peter G. Filene

Chap. 2: How Can People Cope With Death?
The Dying Must Make Spiritual Peace with Death
M. Christina Puchalski
The Dying Have the Right to Die Mad
Marshall B. Kapp
Nontraditional Funerals Help the Bereaved Cope with Death
Jerri Lyons
Nontraditional Funerals Do Not Help the Bereaved Cope with Death
Joe Queenan
Medical Treatment May Reduce the Pain of Grief
Katherine Shear
Grief Cannot Be Managed
Stephanie Salter

Chap. 3: Should the Human Life Span Be Extended?
Immortality Is an Achievable and Worthy Goal
Frank R. Zindler
The Human Life Span Should Not Be Extended
Leon R. Kass
Cryonic Suspension Can Extend Life Beyond Death
Timothy Leary
Nano Nonsense and Cryonics
Michael Shirmer

Chap. 4: Is There Life After Death?
There Is an Afterlife
Susy Smith
There Is No Afterlife
Paul Kurtz
Near-Death Experiences May Be Glimpses of an Afterlife
Kenneth Ring
Near-Death Experiences Have Natural, Not Spiritual, Causes
Barry F. Seidman
Reincarnation May Lead to Life After Death
Tom Shroder
Reincarnation Is a Myth
Paul Edwards

1st Ed. 2003.
Paperback ISBN: 0-7377-1223-6
Hardcover ISBN: 0-7377-1224-4