Contents

Plan of the Series ....................................................................................................................... xxv
Introduction: “The Way it Was” ................................................................................................. xxvii
Acknowledgments ....................................................................................................................... xxxi
Permissions ............................................................................................................................... xxxiii

Works by John O’Hara ............................................................................................................. 3
Chronology ................................................................................................................................. 8

1. Pottsville/Gibbsville ............................................................................................................ 17
O’Hara’s Pennsylvania Protectorate ........................................................................................... 17

Pottsville/Gibbsville
   Facsimile: Obituary notes prepared by O’Hara for the New York Herald Tribune
The Gibbsville Stories
   Growing Up with Death—from O’Hara letter to William Maxwell, 9 February 1961
Working on The Journal ............................................................................................................ 28

   A Cub Tells His Story—O’Hara, Pottsville Journal, 2 May 1925
   Dr. O’Hara Is Laid to Rest—Pottsville Republican, 21 March 1925
   Early Days on the Journal—O’Hara, “Famous Author Writes of His Early Days on Journal; Is Now Big Literary Figure,” Pottsville Journal, 2 October 1950
   Why Shouldn’t Red Make a Fortune?—O’Hara, Pottsville Journal, 20 November 1925

O’Hara and “The Conning Tower” ........................................................................................... 34

   George F. Gabbitry Stops a Little Early for the Wife at Her Literary Club Meeting—O’Hara,
   Remembering F.P.A.—O’Hara letter to the New York Herald Tribune, 5 April 1960

Looking Back ............................................................................................................................ 37

   Characters in Search—from “An Artist is His Own Fault”: John O’Hara on Writers and Writing
   Don’t Say It Never Happened—O’Hara, New York Herald Tribune Book Review, 8 April 1962
2. The Thirties: The New Yorker and Appointment in Samarra .................................................. 43

Stories for The New Yorker ..................................................................................................................... 43

  Pet

O’Hara and F. Scott Fitzgerald .................................................................................................................. 45

  A Matter of Material

  Facsimile: Fitzgerald’s inscription to O’Hara in Tender Is the Night

  O’Hara letter to John Steinbeck, 2 or 3 June 1949

  Facsimile: Letter to Fitzgerald, April 1934

  O’Hara’s Introduction to The Portable F. Scott Fitzgerald

  O’Hara letter to David Brown, 12 August 1957

  Facsimile: First page of the setting copy for Appointment in Samarra

Writing Appointment in Samarra .............................................................................................................. 53

O’Hara letter to Thomas O’Hara, 12 February 1934

“Putting His Friends in Print”—Danville (Pa.) Morning News, 15 July 1935

The Model for Julian English—from O’Hara letter to Gerald Murphy, 30 July 1962

Foreword to the Modern Library Edition—by O’Hara

Automobiles as Characterizers—from “An Artist Is His Own Fault”: John O’Hara on Writers and Writing

A Highball in the Face: from Appointment in Samarra

The Coal Region: from Appointment in Samarra

Reception of a First Novel ........................................................................................................................... 60

16 August 1934

F.P.A. on Appointment in Samarra—New York Herald Tribune, 18 August 1934

Facsimile: Inscription to Franklin P. Adams in the dedication copy of Appointment in Samarra

16 August 1934

Mr. O’Hara and the Vulgar School: Review of Appointment in Samarra—Henry Seidel Canby,

The Saturday Review of Literature, 18 August 1934

6 October 1934

29 December 1934

“Polish and Glitter”: Review of Appointment in Samarra—Times Literary Supplement, 7 March 1935
3. The Thirties: From The Doctor’s Son to Files on Parade

The Doctor’s Son and Other Stories .................................................. 81

Good Reading—O’Hara, New York Herald Tribune Book Review, 22 November 1934

Facsimile: First page of the revised typescript for “The Doctor’s Son”

The Case of John O’Hara: Review of The Doctor’s Son and Other Stories—Lewis Gannett, New York Herald Tribune, 23 February 1935

O’Hara’s Short Stories: Review of The Doctor’s Son and Other Stories—William Rose Benét, The Saturday Review of Literature, 2 March 1935

An Author Returns—John McClain, New York Sun, 21 August 1935

Butterfield 8 .......................................................... 89

Find Starr Faithfull Drowned While Unconscious From Drug; Stepfather Bares Her Secrets—New York World Telegram, 15 June 1931

Introduction to Butterfield 8—by Matthew J. Bruccoli

“One Kind”: from Butterfield 8

“The Names They Would Talk”: from Butterfield 8

I Was Determined to Make Plain What I Had Seen—from “An Artist Is His Own Fault”: John O’Hara on Writers and Writing

The Symbol and the Type: from Butterfield 8

Facsimile: Inscription to John Hayward in Butterfield 8

Mr. O’Hara Hates Some More: Review of Butterfield 8—Lewis Gannett, New York Herald Tribune, 18 October 1935

On Heywood Broun—O’Hara letter to The New Republic, 15 January 1940

Mr. O’Hara’s Talent: Review of Butterfield 8—Lionel Trilling, The Nation, 6 November 1935

A Fine Girl—from O’Hara, “We’re Friends Again,” Sermons and Soda-Water

Hope of Heaven .......................................................... 109

Watch Out for Mr. O’Hara—Wolcott Gibbs, The Saturday Review of Literature, 19 February 1938

Facsimile: Inscription to Roland Young in Hope of Heaven

“Quick Vivid Projection”: Review of Hope of Heaven—Otis Ferguson, The New Republic, 13 April 1938

Files on Parade ............................................................................................................. 119

Foreword to Files on Parade—by O’Hara

“Unmistakably O’Hara’s”: Review of Files on Parade—Mark Schorer, Boston Evening Transcript, 7 October 1939

O’Hara’s Hollywood Work

4. The Forties .................................................................................................................. 124

Pal Joey .......................................................................................................................... 124

The Boys in the Back Room—Edmund Wilson, The New Republic, 11 November 1940

Pal Joey: the Musical (1940) ......................................................................................... 129

O’Hara letter to Richard Rodgers, 22 December 1940

A Broadway Credit—from O’Hara, Foreword to The Farmers Hotel

Concerning the Author of “Pal Joey”—Lucius Beebe, New York Herald Tribune, 12 January 1941

Facsimile: Inscription to Budd Schulberg in Appointment in Samarra

The Revival of Pal Joey (1952) ......................................................................................... 136

Facsimile: Inscription to Helen and James Thurber in Pal Joey

‘Joey’ Comes of Age—O’Hara, New York Herald Tribune, 23 November 1952

O’Hara’s Theater Work after Pal Joey

Moontide .......................................................................................................................... 146

“A Tough and Vibrant Script”: Review of Moontide—Howard Barnes, New York Herald Tribune, 30 April 1942

Facsimile: First page of O’Hara’s screenplay for Moontide

Pipe Night .......................................................................................................................... 149

Preface to Pipe Night—by Wolcott Gibbs

Facsimile: Inscription to Belle Wylie O’Hara in Pipe Night
Perfidies of Life His Concern: Review of Pipe Night—Kenneth Fearing, New York Herald Tribune
Weekly Book Review, 25 March 1945

Facsimile: Inscription to Dorothy Parker in Pipe Night

Here’s O’Hara ................................................................. 156

Foreword for Here’s O’Hara—by O’Hara

Facsimile: Letter to Random House editor Robert Linscott, 1 March 1947

Hellbox ................................................................. 159

O’Hara Finds his Publisher—from Bennett Cerf, At Random: The Reminiscences of Bennett Cerf

“For Anyone with the Requisite Imagination”: Review of Hellbox—Joseph Henry Jackson, San Francisco Chronicle, 4 August 1947

O’Hara letter to Joseph Henry Jackson, 1 September 1947

A Rage to Live ................................................................. 164

4 July 1917 Festival at the Tate Farm: from A Rage to Live

A Reichelderfer Christmas: from A Rage to Live

Wedding Day: from A Rage to Live

Sidney Tate’s Funeral: from A Rage to Live

Reception of A Rage to Live ................................................................. 171

A Rage to Live and O’Hara’s Break with The New Yorker

Facsimile: Letter to Harold Ross, 6 April 1949

Appointment in Fort Penn: Review of A Rage to Live—Newsweek, 22 August 1949

On an Author: John O’Hara—New York Herald Tribune Book Review, 28 August 1949

O’Hara letter to Frank Norris, 22 July 1949

“Interesting from First Word to Last”: Review of A Rage to Live—Clifton Fadiman, Book-of-the-Month Club News, August 1949

O’Hara’s Cross Section: Review of A Rage to Live—Joseph Henry Jackson, San Francisco Chronicle, 16 August 1949

O’Hara letter to Fletcher Markle, 20 August 1949

“An Evident Seriousness of Purpose”: Review of A Rage to Live—Times Literary Supplement, 8 December 1950
5. The Fifties ................................................................. 188

The Farmers Hotel ....................................................... 188

O’Hara letter to Bennett Cerf, 16 June 1951
O’Hara letter to Cerf and Donald Klopfer, October 1951
The Author’s Name Is Hemingway—O’Hara, The New York Times Book Review, 10 September 1950
O’Hara letter to John P. Marquand, 19 November 1951
A Parable by John O’Hara: Review of The Farmers Hotel—Sterling North, New York World-Telegram and The Sun, 14 November 1951

Facsimile: Inscription to Belle O’Hara in The Farmers Hotel
To the Editor—John Steinbeck, The New York Times, 2 December 1951

Sweet and Sour ............................................................ 195

“A Job in Trenton”: The First “Sweet & Sour” Column—O’Hara, Trenton Sunday Times-Advertiser, 27 December 1953
Foreword to Sweet and Sour—by O’Hara

Facsimile: First page of a typescript for The Best Things in Life Are Free

Ten North Frederick ..................................................... 201

O’Hara’s Ambition and Ten North Frederick
Albert Erskine Becomes O’Hara’s Editor
The Aristocrat and the Butcher: from Ten North Frederick
The Benjamin Chapins: from Ten North Frederick
Owning Joe Chapin: from Ten North Frederick
The End of Joe Chapin’s Presidential Aspirations: from Ten North Frederick
Joe Chapin’s Funeral: from Ten North Frederick

Facsimile: Inscription to Katharine Barnes O’Hara
Sister

“The Safest Way to Live”: from Ten North Frederick
Joe Chapin: RIP: from Ten North Frederick

O’Hara Once Again Rips The Lid Off Gibsville: Review of Ten North Frederick—William Hogan, San Francisco Chronicle, 28 November 1955

O’Hara’s First Badge

O’Hara’s Acceptance Speech for the 1956 National Book Award

In the Broad Stream: Review of Ten North Frederick—John Chamberlain, National Review, 1 February 1956

Vulnerable Positions: Review of Ten North Frederick—Times Literary Supplement, 6 July 1956

Banned in Detroit and Albany .......................................................... 219

O’Hara Book Naughty, Police Say; It’s Banned—Louis Cook, Detroit Free Press, 18 January 1957

The Supreme Court and the End of the Detroit Case

Book Firm Indicted in State Probe—New York Herald Tribune, 10 December 1957

Author John O’Hara Indicted in Smut Case—The Knickerbocker News, 13 December 1957

O’Hara letter to Malcolm Cowley, 17 December 1957

Lengthy Fight on Book Due—The Knickerbocker News, 19 December 1957

Novels on the Screen

O’Hara letter to Malcolm Cowley, 1 December 1958

Selected Short Stories ............................................................................. 225

Introduction to Selected Short Stories of John O’Hara—by Lionel Trilling

Facsimile: Note on blurb for Selected Short Stories of John O’Hara

These Stories Were Part of Me—by O’Hara

A Family Party .................................... from A Family Party .................. 229

Stenographic Report: from A Family Party

From the Terrace ............................................... 232

O’Hara letter to Charles Poore, 23 October 1958

Facsimile: O’Hara’s map for guests to “Linebrook”

Where O’Hara Wrote: His Study in “Linebrook”

The Rothermel Family: from From the Terrace

A Car to Love: from From the Terrace

A Partner in MacHardie & Company: from From the Terrace

John O’Hara Gives Us a Big, Big Novel: Review of From the Terrace—Hoke Norris, Chicago Sun-Times, 30 November 1958

John O’Hara as the American Galsworthy: Review of From the Terrace—William Hogan, San Francisco Chronicle, 1 December 1958

O’Hara letter to Robert Kirsch, Los Angeles Times, 28 December 1958
6. The Sixties ................................................................. 250

_Ourselves to Know_ ....................................................... 250

O’Hara letter to David Brown, 14 February 1959

The Stamp of Approval: from _Ourselves to Know_

3,450 Bills: from _Ourselves to Know_

A Desperate Detour to Destruction: Review of _Ourselves to Know_—David Boroff, _The Saturday Review_, 27 February 1960

O’Hara letter to Charles Poore, 27 February 1960

“His Own Special Oxygen”: Review of _Ourselves to Know_—Maurice Dolbier, _New York Herald Tribune_, 27 February 1960

O’Hara letter to William Hogan, 10 March 1960

An Intricate Novel By the Mature O’Hara: Review of _Ourselves to Know_—William Hogan, _San Francisco Chronicle_, 4 March 1960

_Sermons and Soda-Water_ ............................................... 263

O’Hara letter to Bennett Cerf, 23 April 1960

Foreword to _Sermons and Soda-Water_—by O’Hara

_Facsimile:_ Albert Erskine’s query about _Sermons and Soda-Water_, with O’Hara’s reply

_Sermons and Soda_ From John O’Hara: Review of _Sermons and Soda-Water_—William Hogan, _San Francisco Chronicle_, 24 November 1960

“Our Happy Ending”—from “Imagine Kissing Pete,” _Sermons and Soda-Water_

O’Hara letter to William Hogan, 29 November 1960

“The Day After”—from “We’re Friends Again,” _Sermons and Soda-Water_

_Facsimile:_ Inscription to Katharine Barnes O’Hara

“The Final Condition”—“We’re Friends Again,” _Sermons and Soda-Water_

_Five Plays_ ................................................................. 269

_Assembly_ ................................................................. 272

Foreword to _Assembly_—by O’Hara
James Gould Cozzens on Assembly—notebook entry, 26 November 1961
“No Time for Spurious Modesty”—O’Hara letter to David Brown, 9 December 1961

The Big Laugh ................................................................. 278
Facsimile: Inscription to Katharine Delaney O’Hara in The Big Laugh

The Cape Cod Lighter .......................................................... 280
Foreword to The Cape Cod Lighter—by O’Hara
Introduction to 49 Stories—by John K. Hutchens
O’Hara letter to Don Schanche, 18 May 1963

Elisabeth Appleton .............................................................. 288
More of the Same from an Old Pro: Review of Elisabeth Appleton—Hayden Carruth, Chicago Daily News, 5 June 1963
John O’Hara at 58: A Rage to Write—Richard Booth, Newsweek, 3 June 1963
Top-Pop Trollope: Review of Elisabeth Appleton—TLS, 14 November 1963

The Hat on the Bed .............................................................. 292
Cozzens on “Yucca Knolls” and The Hat on the Bed—notebook entries, 4 May and 28 December 1963
“The Way I Want It To Be”—O’Hara letter to Bennett Cerf, 31 March 1964
O’Hara’s Award of Merit Medal for the Novel—from John Hersey, Proceedings of the American Academy of Arts and Letters and the National Institute of Arts and Letters

The Horse Knows the Way ...................................................... 296
Foreword to The Horse Knows the Way—by O’Hara
Note for “The Lawbreaker”—The Saturday Evening Post, 16 November 1963
They Are Not Us—O’Hara letter to James Gould Cozzens, 4 August 1964

The Lockwood Concern ....................................................... 300

xxi
Contents

My Turn ................................................................. 304

Foreword to My Turn—by O’Hara

Waiting for Winter .................................................... 305

Author’s Note for Waiting for Winter—by O’Hara

The Instrument .......................................................... 309

The Country Squire—O’Hara letter to Albert Erskine, 14 November 1967

And Other Stories ....................................................... 312

Foreword to And Other Stories—by O’Hara
Facsimile: Note to Bennett Cerf on his seventieth birthday

The O’Hara Generation ............................................... 315

Introduction to The O’Hara Generation—by Albert Erskine
Sampler from the O’Hara Generation: Review of The O’Hara Generation—Robert Kirsch, Los Angeles Times, 3 August 1969

Lovey Chlids ............................................................... 321

7. Obits and After ....................................................... 324

Obituaries ................................................................. 324

Mr. John O’Hara Popular American Writer—Times (London), 13 April 1970
Appointment in Samarra—Richard Boehm, Newsweek, 20 April 1970

xxii

“A Superlative Short-Story Writer”—statement by Robert Penn Warren, Fall 1970

The Ewings ................................................................. 329

Facsimile: Last page from the typescript for The Ewings

Facsimile: Last page from the typescript for The Second Ewings

Facsimile: Plot sheet for The Second Ewings

The Time Element .......................................................... 335

Treasures from the O’Hara Storehouse, Old and New: Review of The Time Element and Other Stories—from Matthew J. Bruccoli, Chicago Daily News, 16 December 1972

Good Samaritan ............................................................. 340

Selected Letters ........................................................... 343

Assessments and Tributes ............................................... 345

“Ruthless Perfection”—statement by Bruce J. Friedman, Fall/Winter 1980

“Our Trollope”—statement by Shelby Foote, 1992

“The Best We Have”—statement by by Budd Schulberg, 2005

“Towering Example”—statement by George Garrett, 2005

For Further Reading ......................................................... 351

Cumulative Index ............................................................ 355