

Gale Scavenger Hunt

Research In Context: Endangered Species

Directions Use the Library's database called Student Resources In Context to find answers to the following questions about Endangered Species. Write your answer and the source for the information listed in the article in the spaces provided below.

To answer these questions, use the Endangered Species Topic Page. From the home page, click on Browse Topics and open the Topic Page Titled Endangered Species.

1 Endangered species are either plants or animals that are considered to be at risk of extinction. Bumblebees are on the endangered list, find and read the News article from USA Today, and fill in the blank. Department of the Interior, placed the bee on the list because of a dramatic population decline of _____ over the past _____.

Answers:

Source:

2 For this question, watch a video on Species Extinction and Exotic Species. In the Florida Everglades, what two animal species are endangered? What animal is no longer at risk of extinction?

Answers:

Source:

3 Search and find an image of an endangered species. What is the name of the species? Provide one other fact you discovered about the endangered species you chose, for example: Why the species is endangered? Where does the species live? Are they endangered because of another species and if so, what species? What is the name of the facility helping the endangered species?

Answers:

Source:

4 Dian Fossey is known as “a leading authority on the mountain gorillas”. Experts believe that her work and research saved the mountain gorillas from extinction. From the biography about Dian Fossey, answer these questions. Where was Dian's research camp? What is the title of the book Dian had written after seeing gorillas in the Congo for the first time?

Answers:

Source:

5 On the Topic Page: Endangered Species, there are Related Topics. What are the two related topics for endangered species?

Answers:

Source: