SEARCHING CONTENT

Basic Search

Locate relevant results based on your search term(s). Basic search is a good place to start your research.

Advanced Search

Customize your search with more limiting options to target relevant results. You can use advanced search to run complex searches for specific results, or to perform open searches for a broad view of available content.

- Subject: Choose this field to search document tags and find results fully focused on your topic. Try subject if your basic search produces too many results.
- Publication Title: Use this option to find articles or documents from a particular publication like American History.
- Entire Document: Pick this field to search within the entire text of documents. This option performs a broad search for any mention of your terms, so you can find precise phrases within results, or locate articles that touch on specific concepts.
- Search Operators: Use these drop-downs to connect your search terms. AND ensures your results mention both terms. OR broadens your search to results mentioning either term. NOT excludes a term.

The screenshot shows the 'Advanced Search' page for Gale In Context U.S. History. At the top, there are navigation links for 'U.S. History' and a search bar. Below the search bar, there are 'SEARCH OPTIONS' including 'Advanced Search', 'Publication Search', and 'Topic Finder'. The 'Advanced Search' section has three search rows, each with a text input field, a dropdown menu for 'in', and a dropdown menu for 'Keyword'. There is an 'Add a Row' button and a 'Search' button. Below this, there are 'MORE OPTIONS' including 'Search by Product' (set to 'Gale In Context: U.S. History'), checkboxes for 'Full Text Documents', 'Peer-Reviewed Journals', and 'Document Contains Images', and radio buttons for 'by publication date(s)' (All Dates, Before, On, After, Between) and 'by document type' (Select Document Type(s)).

- Academic Journals deliver advanced analysis from scholarly and peer-reviewed publications.
- Websites link you to additional sources selected to take your learning and research to the next level.

The screenshot shows the 'Brown v. Board of Education' topic page. At the top, there are navigation links for 'U.S. History' and a search bar. Below the search bar, there are 'SEARCH OPTIONS' including 'Advanced Search', 'Publication Search', and 'Topic Finder'. The 'Advanced Search' section has three search rows, each with a text input field, a dropdown menu for 'in', and a dropdown menu for 'Keyword'. There is an 'Add a Row' button and a 'Search' button. Below this, there are 'MORE OPTIONS' including 'Search by Product' (set to 'Gale In Context: U.S. History'), checkboxes for 'Full Text Documents', 'Peer-Reviewed Journals', and 'Document Contains Images', and radio buttons for 'by publication date(s)' (All Dates, Before, On, After, Between) and 'by document type' (Select Document Type(s)).

The main content area is titled 'Brown v. Board of Education' and includes an 'OVERVIEW' section with a photo of attorneys and a text block: 'When the Supreme Court declared that "separate but equal" in public education was unconstitutional in Brown v. Board of Education (Brown I), 347 U.S. 483 (1954), it ordered a further reargument on remedy. The following year, Brown v. Board of Education (Brown II), 349 U.S. 294 (1955) announced that school boards had the primary responsibility to implement desegregation and that they must do so "with all deliberate speed." Everyone understood that "with all deliberate speed" meant significant delay. The Florida legislature was in session when Brown II came down, and when it was read aloud, both chambers greeted it with loud cheers. There were a number of questions implicit in the arguments over remedy. What did desegregation mean—to void the offending laws...'. A 'Read more' button is visible.

Below the overview, there is a section 'ON THIS PAGE' with a grid of links: 'Featured Content (3)', 'Reference (282)', 'Biographies (76)', 'Primary Sources (18)', 'Images (35)', 'Videos (2)', 'Audio (3)', 'Magazines (193)', 'News (12)', 'Academic Journals (8)', 'Case Overview (70)', and 'Related Topics'.

At the bottom, there is a 'SEARCH WITHIN RESULTS' section with a search bar and two featured content cards. The first card is titled 'The brown decision in retrospect: commemoration or celebration' by Charles Jackson, from 'The Western Journal of Black Studies (Vol. 31, Issue 2)', dated June 22, 2007, with 3,619 words. The second card is titled 'Meaning of Brown: What was the Significance of the Brown v. Board of Education Decision?' by Robert J. Allison, from 'History in Dispute (Vol. 2: American Social and Political Movements, 1945-2000: Pursuit of Liberty.)', dated 2000, with 5,851 words.

WORKING WITH RESULTS

Search Results

Click a content type to access sorting and filtering options.

- Sort By: Use this drop-down to view articles with the highest relevance based on factors like the frequency and location of references to your search terms, or to view the newest or oldest articles.
- Filter Your Results: Click to access and apply limits based on Date Published, Subjects, Document Type, and more. Or, select Search Within and submit additional terms to refine your search. Use these options to narrow your topic when you have a large number of results.
- Topic Finder: When available, click this option to generate a visual representation of your search results by topic and subtopic. Use Topic Finder to discover a more narrow, unique research path, or to identify connections between topics. You can also access Topic Finder within Advanced Search to execute a visual search. As you interact with Topic Finder, it provides an updated list of results. Simply click an article's title to view the result.

WORKING WITH DOCUMENTS

Tools

Manage your research with document tools and features.

- Use Cite to generate a citation using MLA, APA, or Chicago style. Export the citation into a variety of tools, or simply copy and paste it into your bibliography.
- Click Send to... to email or export the result to your Google Drive™ or OneDrive™ account, allowing you to access it indefinitely. A U.S. History folder is automatically created to make it easy to find your exported documents.
- Download or Print the document to keep a copy of the result, including any highlights and notes you've added.
- Use Get Link to create a URL back to practically any page you choose. Copy and paste the link in documents, on websites, or anywhere else you'd normally place a URL. This tool provides an easy way for you to share individual results, searches, and more.
- Annotate important text with Highlights and Notes. Click and drag to select text within a result, choose a highlighter color, and add notes to the selection. Download, Print, or Send to... email, Google Drive™, or OneDrive™ to retain your highlights and notes with the result. You can also click the Highlights and Notes tool and then choose View All Highlights and Notes to access a summary of your annotations. Once you leave the database, your work is erased to protect your privacy.
- Select Translate to view a machine translation of the document in the language of your choice.
- Click Listen to have the article read aloud to you. After clicking play, you can download the audio .mp3.
- Explore similar results by selecting articles listed under More Like This. Or, click Related Subjects to find additional documents with similar subject terms. These options link you to further results to boost your understanding and enhance your research.
