INTRODUCTION

This micropublication reproduces the U.S. Department of State Decimal Files 890h, 789, 889, and 989, entitled Records Relating to the Internal Affairs of Afghanistan, for the years 1945-1949, 1950-1954, 1955-1959, and 1960-1963. The documents found in these files are predominately instructions to—and despatches from—U.S. diplomatic and consular personnel regarding political, military, economic, social, and other internal conditions and events in Afghanistan. Other types of documentation included are reports and memoranda prepared by the State Department staff; communications between the State Department and foreign diplomats; and correspondence with other U.S. Government departments, private firms, and individuals.

The materials in these Decimal Files have been reproduced in the exact order and condition in which they appear in the holdings of the National Archives and Records Administration. All documents in the files that have been declassified appear on the microfilm. Those few documents that remain classified were removed from the files prior to filming and replaced with notices identifying the material and the reason for its removal.

Decimal Files 890h, 789, 889, and 989 are part of the General Records of the Department of State, Record Group 59.

The Decimal Filing System

From 1910 to 1963 the State Department used a decimal filing system to organize its central file in which documents were arranged by subject according to predetermined file numbers. The Department used essentially the same classification scheme from 1910 through 1949. During this period the Decimal Files consisted of nine broad subject areas known as classes, which were numbered 0 through 8:

Class 0:	General Miscellaneous
Class 1:	Administration, U.S. Government
Class 2:	Extradition
Class 3:	Protection of Interests
Class 4:	Claims
Class 5:	International Conferences, Multilateral Treaties, Disarmament, League of Nations, and Interparliamentary Union
Class 6:	Commerce, Customs Administration, and Trade Agreements
Class 7:	Political Relations of States
Class 8	Internal Affairs of States

Scholarly Resources' micropublications of Decimal File documents dated prior to 1950 are predominately from Class 8, the designation for materials on Internal Affairs of States. Class 8, which consists of documentation on all aspects of the internal situation of a given country from political affairs to industrial matters, is generally the category of greatest significance to scholars.

In 1950 the State Department modified its Decimal Files, but without changing the basic structure. The complexity of the postwar world and the increasing involvement of the United States in international affairs had combined to make the 1910 filing system, last updated in 1939, inadequate to meet the Department's growing needs. The updated Decimal Files were still based on classes, but the old nine classes were rearranged, abolished, or subdivided. For example, Class 8 in the old system (pre-1950) now becomes Classes 7 (Internal Political and National Defense Affairs), 8 (Internal Economic, Industrial, and Social Affairs), and 9 (Communications, Transportation, and Science). As with the previous system, four elements were employed to generate a file number. An example of a document from Decimal File 890h is explained below:

- 8 90h * 24 / 9-949
- (1) (2) (3) (4)

(1) Class number. Decimal File numbers begin with the class. All of the documents in this micropublication are from Class 8 (pre-1950, specifically 1945-1949) and Classes 7, 8, and 9 (post -1949).

(2) Country number. This is the assigned number for the geographical region or country to which the document pertains. Documents in this micropublication are country number 90h (pre-1950) and 89 (post-1949), the general designations for Afghanistan.

(3) Subtopic number (follows the decimal point). Within each Decimal File class, the subject of documents is further defined by numerical subtopics. The numerical-subject listing for Class 8 (1945-1949) appears in Appendix 1 (pages 1-20) of this Guide. This listing shows that subtopic 24 covers "Military equipment and supplies."

(4) Document number (follows the slash). Within each subtopic group, documents are filed in chronological sequence. Beginning in July 1944 the system of assigning sequential numbers to documents within each subtopic was abandoned in favor of using the date of a document as its individual number. In the above example the document number, as well as the date, is 9-949 (September 9, 1949). It is not uncommon to find more than one document in a particular file bearing identical file numbers, since a number of documents on a particular issue often were generated within a single day.

Periodization of Files

The State Department divided its Decimal Files into seven arbitrary sections by years: 1910-1929, 1930-1939, 1940-1944, 1945-1949, 1950-1954, 1955-1959, and 1960-1963. Each section is treated as a separate filing unit, organized by the numerical-subject classification system. Within each section, all documents pertaining to a particular subject are filed together. It is important to note that the Decimal Files cannot be accessed by individual years.

First Page of a Document

A sample document appears on page viii of this Guide with explanatory notes. This telegram by no means represents all documents found in the Decimal Files reproduced in this micropublication, but its format and annotations are illustrative of many of the documents. At the top left are the Foreign Service post that sent the telegram, the recipient (usually the Secretary of State), the telegram number, and the date and time of transmission. Also at the top left are instructions for the dissemination of the telegram: "action" indicates the office designated to act on information in the telegram and "info" the offices to be informed of its message. The top right shows the date and time that the telegram was received by the Department. The Decimal File number always appears on the right-hand side of the document.

Materials Appearing on Each Roll of Film

On each roll of film in this micropublication the user will find:

- 1. Range of documents, by Decimal File number, reproduced on that roll;
- 2. Outline of the numerical-subject categories in Class 8 (1945-1949) and Classes 7, 8, and 9 (post-1949); and
- 3. Documents in numerical order.

Locating Documents on Microfilm

Thousands of documents are reproduced in this micropublication; however, with the decimal filing system, researchers should have little difficulty locating information on a particular topic of interest by using the following steps:

1. Consult the numerical-subject listing for Class 8 (1945-1949) or Classes 7, 8, or 9 (post-1949) to determine the subtopic file number of documents on this topic. (These listings appear both in this Guide and on each roll of film.)

Example: If the topic of interest is "naval affairs" in Afghanistan, then reading down the numerical-subject listing in Class 8 for 1945-1949, one sees that subtopic number .30 applies.

- 2. Refer to the roll contents to determine the roll(s) of film on which the documents with this subtopic appear. (Roll contents are listed on page xv of this Guide and on each roll of film.)
- 3. Use the Subject Indexes for Class 8 (1945-1949) on pages 21-36 and Classes 7, 8, and 9 (post-1949) on pages 19-56 in Appendix 1 and 2, respectively, in this Guide to determine the file number of a specific topic to be researched.
- 4. Place the roll of film on the reader and turn roll to find documents to be examined.
