INTRODUCTION

Content and Organization of the Foreign Office Records

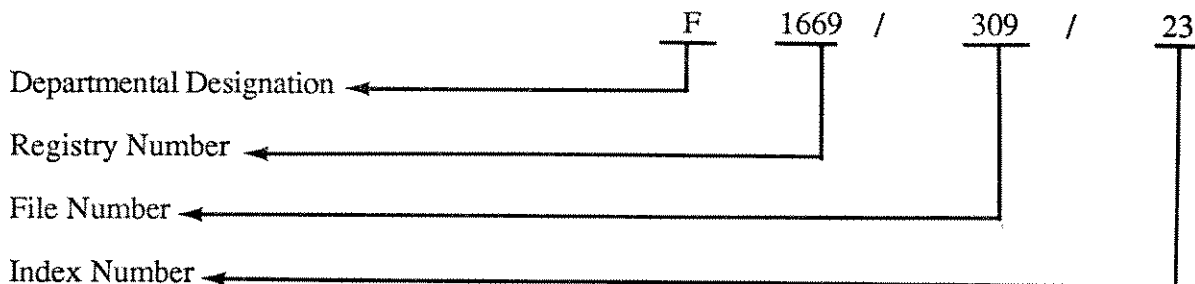

The British Foreign Office Records of General Political Correspondence for Japan, 1906-1929, in F.O. 371 is the collection of documents describing British foreign affairs concerning Japan. The microfilm edition of this collection, published by Scholarly Resources Inc., contains all of the volumes of the Japan Correspondence, with the Registers through 1919, bound by the Public Record Office. (Registers were not printed after 1919.) These documents in the Japan Correspondence provide a wealth of information describing governmental, political, military, and economic affairs in Japan as well as policies and events in Anglo-Japanese relations.

The correspondence concerning Japan consists primarily of communications between the Foreign Office and various British embassies and consulates in the Far East, usually in Japan. These records are the London files, containing material received from abroad or from London departments, and drafts of material originating in and sent out of London. In addition, the collection includes public proclamations by various national leaders, governments, and organizations; communications with foreign governments; pertinent publications; personal requests made of the Foreign Office by private citizens or groups; and records of questions asked by Members of Parliament directed to the Foreign Office. Many miscellaneous despatches and papers round out the body of annual correspondence.

Each document arriving at the Foreign Office from 1906 to 1920 was dated and identified as to origin, sender, and country by the Central Registry. The paper also was assigned a registry number from a consecutive list for the whole Foreign Office; this number was recorded in the Central Register and later in the Sub-Registry with which the paper was identified. The annual series of each department of the Sub-Registries was divided into volumes or parts of volumes for each country. Thus, the registry entries for material in the Japan Correspondence are listed together chronologically as they were received or sent out. After a document had been assigned a registry number, it was assigned a "kept with" or file number, usually the same as the registry number of the first document in the file. Files run in length from one document (that is, "kept with" itself) to many documents totaling several hundred pages. After filing, the paper was indexed according to the country to which the paper pertained. The index number for Japan is 23. At the end of every year the files were bound together into volumes. Page numbers were assigned at this stage, with stamped pagination beginning at Page 1 for each volume.

In 1920 the Foreign Office adopted a new system for registering documents, which was adopted by different departments at various times. The Japan Correspondence, together with the correspondence of other regional countries, was handled by the Far Eastern Department, which initiated use of the new system on 3 March 1920. Many files originating in 1919 continued until that date, so that much of the Japan Correspondence for the year 1920 is included in the volumes for 1919. After the change of 1920 a new section of the Foreign Office, the Opening Branch, identified the country to which an incoming paper pertained and then sent the paper to the appropriate division of another new section, the Archives Branch. Each division of the Archives Branch assigned a registry number from its own annual series. The Far Eastern Department, in whose series the Japan Correspondence is included, is identified by the prefix letter "F."

The Foreign Office used two types of registry numbers during this period. Before 1920 the registry number identifying a particular paper appears on the docket covering the paper. The number appears in the registry stamp with the date of the registration. It also appears by itself in a box to the left of the registry stamp. See Sample Docket (1906-1919). For these years before 1920 the Foreign Office used a reference number that does not appear on the docket. This number included the file number, index number, and year in addition to the registry number. After the change of registration in 1920 this reference number changed format and does appear on the docket.

This number above is called the full registry number. Confusion arises, however, because the full registry number is labeled on the docket as the "Registry Number." See Sample Docket (1920-1929). The term "registry number" accurately applies only to the number in the registry stamp in the upper right-hand corner of the 1920-1929 docket. The full registry number (labeled "Registry Number") is important because the file number contained in it appears only there and nowhere else on docket sheets after the char of 1920. The Sample Dockets below illustrate the position and use of these numbers.

Scholarly Resources has published the bound volumes of the Japan Correspondence on reels of microfilm. The reels normally consist of one to four complete volumes, totaling from 400 to 1100 pages; reel. Reels are numbered consecutively for each year, beginning at Reel 1 for each year.

Format of the Scholarly Resources Guide to the Records

The Guide to the Scholarly Resources edition of the British Foreign Office Japan: Correspondence F. 371 lists each file in the order in which it appears in the volumes, followed by a condensed description of contents. Within larger files the descriptions are broken into separate entries for successive groups of documents. The registry number of only the first document in each subject group is listed in the left column, labeled "DOCUMENT." The use of the term "DOCUMENT" is necessary to avoid confusion in the use of the terms "registry number" and "full registry number." Only the first registry (DOCUMENT) number of each subject group is listed, since listing the registry number for every document would prove cumbersome and would hamper document retrieval. The condensed subject descriptions facilitate retrieval as many documents in one area of a file often have identical subject titles. Semicolons separate different subjects within each subject group.

The Subject Group has a new heading for every change in year, reel, or volume. The second heading identifies the columns for the reference registry number of the first document in each condensed subject description group (DOCUMENT), the number of each "kept with" or file (FILE), the condensed subject descriptions (SUBJECT), and the page number of the first document in each condensed subject group (PAGE).

For a more detailed illustration of the use of the Guide, see below under QUICK REFERENCE METHOD, a brief description of how to find a document.

QUICK REFERENCE METHOD

The most rapid document retrieval method, using the Subject Guide, avoids any confusion of document, registry, or file numbers. Once the desired subject is located, the researcher checks the page number of the first document in that subject description group. He now knows that the desired subject follows that page number and precedes the next page number in the list, and the heading supplies the proper year, reel, and volume. In the illustration below, if the researcher would like information on Anglo-Japanese relations in 1909, he can proceed to Page 164 of Volume 689 in Reel 3 of Year 1909.

SAMPLE DOCKET (1906-1919)

1. Year - Printed by the Central Registry for all documents.
2. Country - The country to which the paper pertained was stamped by the Central Registry upon receipt.
3. Place of origin and date of paper - Written by the Central Registry, the date is that of the paper's origin.
4. Registry number - As each document was opened by the Central Registry, it was assigned the next registry number in the annual series for the Foreign Office. Although usually stamped, the number is sometimes written. Papers were entered in the Central Register in sequence by their registry numbers. Later, the papers were entered in the Register of General Correspondence for the appropriate Sub-Registry. This latter register was bound by country, so that the Registers that accompany this program consist only of those for Japan.

In the Subject Guide, please note that the column containing reference registry numbers has been labeled DOCUMENT to avoid possible confusion in the use of the term "Registry Number" by the Foreign Office.

5. Page number - This number was stamped consecutively on every page of each document when files were bound into volumes at the end of each year. Pagination always begins anew with each volume. These numbers, for the reference documents in the Subject Guide, are listed under the PAGE heading.
6. Registry number and date of receipt - The registry number is repeated with the date of receipt in one stamp in the upper right corner.
7. File number - Known also as the "kept with" or "filed with" number, the file number is normally the number of the first document in the case or file. It appears as either a written, abbreviated "f," or a stamped "File No." Both of these designations mean precisely the same. The file number usually is found in the box in the upper right corner, but it may appear in the adjoining boxes on the docket sheet. In the Subject Guide, the "kept with," "filed with," or "File No." is located under the FILE heading.
8. Author of paper and number in local correspondence series - Both of these items were recorded by the Central Registry upon receipt of the paper. If the paper is a telegram, the word "Telegram" is printed at the top of this box and the entire docket is printed in red. Dockets normally were printed in black, with secret documents having a band of green stripes across the top. If the docket contained confidential material, the word "Confidential" was printed in the bottom of the box. Parliamentary questions were handled by gumming a copy of the question to be asked, from the printed minutes, and stamped in the "Origin" box with "Parliamentary Question." The Foreign Office reply was taken from the printed report of the session and gummed either below the printed question on the docket or inside the docket on the continuation of the "Minutes" section.
9. Subject - A brief one- or two-line title of the paper heads this box. Under the title is a concise but clear précis of the contents. This box was filled in by the Central Registry upon receipt.
10. Last Paper - The number of the previous document in the case or file. This number may refer to a document in the same case in a previous year, usually with a file number different from the number of this paper's file.

11. Minutes - These notations, which may run to several pages within the docket, include any comment and instructions with the initials of all those who read the documents contained in the docket. Thus, this section records the progress of the paper through the clerks and secretaries of the Foreign Office to, sometimes, the foreign minister himself.
12. Print - A notation in this box indicates an order for the paper to be printed in the CONFIDENTIAL PRINT of the Foreign Office. Since only a few papers of topical interest in the Japan Correspondence were ordered for the CONFIDENTIAL PRINT, most of the papers in this program remain blank in this box and hence have never been printed.
13. How disposed of - This box contains notations of copies of the paper sent to other departments, missions, or embassies, usually as a result of instructions found in the "Minutes" section. Tick marks indicate that these actions were completed and entered in the General Register.
14. Action completed - This box contains the initials of the Sub-Registry clerk responsible for the paper, after he has checked that every direction given in the "Minutes" has been carried out.
15. Index - In this box is found the index number of the division of the General Register in which the paper is entered (23 for Japan). The tick mark, often accompanied by the initials of the indexer, indicates that the paper has been indexed.
16. Next Paper - When the next paper in the file came in, its registry number was entered in this box.
17. Target - Accompanying every text page photographed by the Public Record Office, this target included the Record Class of General Correspondence for the Political Department (F.O. 371) followed by the number of the volume. The page numbers in the Subject Guide refer to this volume number.

SAMPLE DOCKET (1920-1929)

1. Year - Written or stamped by the Opening Branch for all documents.
2. Department - Stamped by the Opening Branch, "F" designates the Far Eastern Department.
3. Country - The country to which the paper pertained was stamped by the appropriate division of the Archives Branch.
4. Page number - This number was stamped consecutively on every page of each document when files were bound into volumes at the end of each year. Pagination always begins anew with each volume. These numbers, for the reference documents in the Subject Guide, are listed under the PAGE heading.
5. Registry number and date of receipt - After each paper had been opened by the Opening Branch, it was placed in a docket sheet and sent to the appropriate division of the Archives Branch. The document was assigned a registry number, from the annual series of that division, that was stamped in the upper right corner with the date of receipt. After the change of 1920 the registry numbers from each departmental series were preceded by a code letter. The departmental designation for the Japan Correspondence is "F."

In the Subject Guide, please note that the column containing the reference registry numbers has been labeled DOCUMENT to distinguish the number from the full registry number, which includes the registry number, file number, and index number and is labeled on the docket as a REGISTRY NUMBER.

6. Full registry number - Typed under the heading of "Registry Number," this number is, in fact, the registry number, consisting of the registry number of the paper preceded by the departmental designation and followed by the file number and the index number. This number is very important because the file number appears here and nowhere else on the docket sheets after the change of 1920.
7. Origin of the paper and full registry number - This box and the "Subject" box to its right (item 8 below) were typed from information from the appropriate section clerk, in four copies. The original was gummed to the docket sheet, with the copies going to the précis jacket, the Day Book, and the Chronological File, thus ensuring uniformity of cross-referencing information. Under the heading of "Registry Number" was typed the full registry number. Also typed are author and place of origin, the number of the paper in the sender's local correspondence series, the date of the paper, the date of its receipt, and the departmental designation letter, followed by the name of the country to which the paper pertains. If the paper was a telegram, the words "Telegram From" appear below the registry number, and the docket is printed in red. Docket numbers were normally printed in black, with secret documents distinguished by a band of green stripes across the top. Parliamentary questions were handled by gumming a copy of the question to the docket, from the printed minutes, and stamped in the "Origin" box with "Parliamentary Question." The Foreign Office reply was taken from the printed report of the session and gummed either below the printed question on the docket or inside the docket on the continuation of the "Minutes" section.
8. Subject - This box is the other part of the typed paper gummed to the docket sheet. It consists of a brief title, below which is a concise but clear précis of the paper's contents.
9. Last Paper - The number of the previous document in the case or file. This number may refer to a document in the same case in a previous year, usually with a file number different from the number of this paper's file.
