TECHNICAL NOTE

Research Publications has set itself the highest standards in the field of archivally-permanent library microfilming. Our microfilm publications conform to the recommendations of the guides to good microfilming and micropublishing practice and meet the standards established by the Association for Information and Image Management (AIIM) and the American National Standards Institute (ANSI).

Attention should be drawn to the nature of the original material. Manuscript documents within the Cambridge University Library sometimes consist of faintly legible correspondence and records written with a variety of inks and pens and on paper which has become discolored or stained, or which is so thin that there is show-through that renders the original document difficult to read. Occasionally volumes have been tightly bound and documents are obscured in the inner margin. These original characteristics present difficulties of image and contrast which stringent tests and camera alterations cannot entirely overcome. Every effort has been made to minimise these difficulties though there are some few pages or documents which have proved impossible to reproduce satisfactorily. Conscious of this we have chosen to include these pages in order to make available the complete volumes, bundle, or file.

PUBLISHER'S NOTE

This is the fifth part of the Medieval Manuscripts of Pembroke College, Cambridge.

A complete listing of the manuscripts included in the part appears in the M.R. James catalogue of the Pembroke manuscripts which is included in its entirety on the first reel of each part.

The manuscripts cover a wide variety of subjects. There are works on mystical theology, religious and secular poetry, chronicles, works of history and hagiography, dialectic and law. They will enable scholars to share the same resources as medieval scholars and better understand the background to their great evangelical and scholarly work.
