PUBLISHER'S NOTE

The Social and Political Status of Women Britain is a major programme offering a wide range of extremely rare women's journals and magazines for the period 1798 to 1935.

Series One offers Rare Political, Reforming and Professional Journals. Series Two offers Popular Women's Magazines. Taken together these allow a broad understanding of the attitudes and standpoints of a wide variety of women - from suffragettes, philanthropists, and working women to the avid readers of popular fiction below stairs, middle-class consumer culture, and the ladies of high society.

This second part of Series One contains 38 separate titles. A full list of contents follows this note and reproduced on each reel. It provides the full titles, dates and issues numbers of each title included. Changes of title and missing issues have been indicated.

A number of the titles include in this programme are incomplete. However, given their scarcity and interest we have thought it better to include them in this form, rather than to omit them altogether.

An important bibliography describing many of the journals is: David Doughan and Denise Sanchez, Feminist Periodicals, 1855-1984: An Annotated Critical Bibliography of British, Irish, Commonwealth and International Titles, Wheatsheaf Books, Brighton, 1986.

The British Library Photographic Department has exercised the most responsible care in the filming of this unique collection and this microfilm publication meets the standards established by the Association for Information and the Management (AIIM) and the American National Standards Institute (ANSI).
